Appointment of Head of German
From September 2017
The School

Founded in 1432, Sevenoaks enjoys a global reputation as a centre of academic excellence and a flagship school for the International Baccalaureate. A co-educational day and boarding school, it offers a stimulating, intellectually demanding and balanced education for pupils from the age of 11 to 18.

Inspiring facilities, together with expert, enthusiastic and imaginative teaching, provide rich opportunities for students participating in lessons, and a wide variety of sports and the performing arts.

The school’s international make-up and outlook promote the principles of tolerance and open-mindedness. About 350 pupils board in the seven boarding houses, and students originate from some 40 countries worldwide.

In 2013 the Independent Schools Inspectorate (ISI) awarded Sevenoaks School the rare accolade of ‘Exceptional’ for its students’ achievement. Sevenoaks was also the highest performing fully co-educational school, and the one with the largest cohort, in the Sunday Times Parent Power’s top 50 fee-paying schools for the IB in 2015.

This excellence is achieved by bright, motivated students, inspired by highly qualified and dedicated teachers in well-resourced classrooms. The school has over 150 teaching staff, well supported by a large number of ancillary staff. A professional pastoral team of specialist tutors, boarding house staff and year heads give care and guidance, promoting student happiness. The mutual respect shared by students and staff generates a harmonious and purposeful atmosphere.

Every pupil is encouraged to be curious, creative, critically aware, and to develop his or her passion and talent to the full. Life is fast-paced, dynamic, and expectations are high. At the same time, the school seeks to cultivate in its pupils the habit of reflecting on their learning, and on how they contribute to society more broadly. Ambitious and principled, confident and compassionate, our pupils are prepared for leadership and teamwork in the wider world.

Regular assemblies, tutor group meetings and a programme of talks help the social and emotional understanding in our pupils, and a long tradition of voluntary service and local and international charity projects advances a core set of values across the student body.

The Campus

The school is situated in the Kent market town of Sevenoaks, and has a prime position at the top of the High Street. The 100-acre site, which includes a number of listed buildings, is beautifully landscaped and adjoins the medieval deer park of Knole. London is only a 30-minute train journey away. Gatwick International Airport is also only 30 minutes away, and there are good transport links to other London airports and the Channel Tunnel.

The school’s first-class resources and facilities include a superb sports centre (The Sennocke Centre) opened in 2005. A state-of-the-art performing arts centre (The Space), which provides four outstanding venues for music and drama, was opened in 2010. The next major projects currently underway are a Science & Technology Centre and a Sixth Form Global Study Centre, which the school plans to open in 2018, and new boarding accommodation which should be ready for occupation by 2019.

Teaching at Sevenoaks School

We want all our pupils to enjoy their subjects, to be inspired by their teachers and to become independent, lifelong learners. We have an exceptionally lively, talented and committed staff body. Teachers are enthusiastic and well-qualified graduates. We welcome applications from experienced teachers and newly-qualified teachers but can also provide training including PGCE for those new to the profession. All new staff undertake a comprehensive induction programme.

Sevenoaks is committed to supporting its staff with training and professional development tailored to staff needs and interests.

Teachers at Sevenoaks are innovative and forward-thinking and over 60 staff are involved in the Institutes of Teaching & Learning, Higher Education & Professional Insight, and Service & Entrepreneurship, shaping further development and initiatives for students and staff alike.

Curriculum

All of the 400-plus Sixth Form students pursue the International Baccalaureate Diploma, a programme the school has delivered for nearly 40 years. The Diploma represents, in the school’s view, the best preparation for university and for work in a world of global competition. Even more important, it genuinely develops a rich inner life in our students, opening their minds to connections and possibilities within and across the subject disciplines.

It is no surprise that our students leave Sevenoaks to study a wide range of courses in the UK and around the world. All 210 leaving students each year progress to the world’s top universities, including up to 25% to Oxford and Cambridge, and 25 or more students to leading US and international universities. They do so with an enlarged capacity for independent thought and intellectual risk-taking, a strong appetite for learning, and equipped with the skills and personal qualities conducive to a happy and successful life.

In order to support our ethos and aims, we have developed a number of Sevenoaks School Certificate courses, which students take instead of GCSEs, in English Literature, the Expressive Arts and Technology. The SSCs (which are fully recognised by UCAS) give teachers the independence and creative scope to shape a richly satisfying curriculum. In Years 9-11 all students take courses in critical thinking – Critical Perspectives and Ten Ideas That Changed the World – developed by the school.

The Modern Languages Faculty

The Modern Languages Faculty is large, energetic and ambitious. The Faculty includes major European languages, Mandarin Chinese and Additional Languages. The Heads of these languages work together as a team under the leadership of the Head of Faculty. A diverse range of modern languages is taught: French, German, Mandarin, Spanish and Russian are available to (I)GCSE, and comprise part of the IB Diploma programme, where Italian is also offered as a language option. There are 25 language teachers and a number of visiting language tutors who offer additional languages teaching to native speakers. There are also nine full-time language assistants for French, German, Russian, Spanish and Mandarin.

A modern departmental area was created in September 2000, with 15 classrooms, a language laboratory and a computer suite. All rooms are equipped with computer projectors.

All pupils joining the school in Year 7 take Latin plus one modern language from a choice of French and Spanish. In Year 8 a second modern language is offered from a choice of French, Mandarin, Spanish, Russian or German. A number of pupils choose to take up to four languages to (I)GCSE, two modern and two classical. All (I)GCSE examinations are completed in Year 11 except for bilingual pupils, who take their examinations in Year 10.

In the Sixth Form all students take the International Baccalaureate examinations at either Higher or Standard Level depending on their background; students’ levels range from Ab Initio right up to native speaker standard. A modern language is a core requirement within the programme, and the vast majority of our 440 Sixth Formers take a modern language at one of the three levels, with many students opting to study languages at top universities. The presence of almost 200 students with international backgrounds enriches the student body and develops interest in other countries. There are regular university and Oxbridge successes, and several Sevenoaks modern language debating teams have enjoyed the status of national champions in recent years.
The Language departments run a series of exchanges or study trips in seven countries with several partner schools. In addition, a full-time Languages secretary and Exchange Co-ordinator helps with the administration of the department.

The German Department

The department comprises four teachers and one native language assistant, who plays a vital role in contributing to the emphasis on contemporary language and cultural awareness. German is available as a beginner’s class in Year 8 and Year 9, and the department has a strong track record of retaining pupils through to IGCSE, which is sat with the CIE examining board.

In the Lower School and Middle School, native speakers are taught separately by a native conversation assistant. They take German Foreign Language IGCSE in Year 10 and they have the opportunity of taking the German IGCSE First Language exam in Year 11. German is a popular subject in the Sixth Form, where it is available at both Higher and Standard level at both Language A (native speaker) and Language B (post-GCSE).

The German department runs a long-standing exchange to Ibbenbüren for Middle School pupils and a Lower Sixth Study Trip to Berlin, in addition to a highly popular Christmas Market Trip to Aachen in Year 8.

Head of German

The successful candidate will be an enthusiastic, well-qualified graduate and a dynamic teacher and leader. Love of the subject and an ability to convey this to students is essential. In leading the work of the department, the Head of German will foster a strong team spirit, help to develop the skills of the teaching staff, and look to inspire the students. He or she will also be a good administrator, able to manage the day-to-day work of the department efficiently. The Head of Department is responsible for ensuring that the appropriate syllabuses are taught and that the necessary resources are available. As such, it is essential to keep in touch with the requirements and regulations for public examinations. The Head of Department will oversee the enrichment activities in German and take a lead in preparing students for university entry. He or she will be expected to chair departmental meetings on a regular basis, ensuring the co-ordination and implementation of departmental and school policies.

A commitment to excellent pastoral care and enriching co-curricular activities is also expected.
